Halloween night

Halloween is a tradition that takes place October 31, the night before the Christian feast of All Saints' Day. According to tradition, the gates to the spirit world open on this night, allowing the spirits of the dead, witches, and nymphs to roam the world. In response, to ward off these visitors from the spirit world, people used to don a mask and make a fire. Today, Halloween is a fun holiday featuring costumed party-goers, decorative jack-o'-lanterns, and costumed children who go from door to door in their neighborhoods in search of candy.
